

NEW RIVERSIDE BOOK

Available in October, By Patti Linn, Hardcover, Full Color, 8 x 10 inches, 160 pages, Price: $30 (Riverside members get a 10% discount).
Coming soon to the Riverside Museum Store and at www.butler-books.com. All proceeds from the sale of the book support the mission of Riverside, the Farnsley-Moremen Landing.

Plan to get your copy of Riverside: The Unfolding Story, a 25th anniversary commemorative publication made available through Butler Books. Written by Riverside Site Manager Patti Linn, this new book features some of the latest research on the Riverside property. For example, it includes the story of a scandalous double murder that occurred on the farm in 1826 when Ebenezer Christopher lived here (before the Farnsley-Moremen House was built)--and the unfolding story of Richard Moremen Thomas who had been enslaved and then served in the United States Colored Infantry during the Civil War. In addition to fresh information about the Farnsley and the Moremen eras, this publication attempts to bring Riverside's story into the 21st century.

WELCOME NEW RIVERSIDE STAFF

Teresa Lee (top right) is Riverside's new Historic Site Supervisor/Volunteer Coordinator. Her background and experience make her an excellent fit for her new role. Teresa earned her BA in History (with minors in Anthropology and Gender Studies) from Indiana University Southeast. Her previous experience includes completing an archaeology field school with Dr. Jay Stottman and working at Riverside as a seasonal. However, for the past four years, Teresa has served as the Educator at Louisville's Portland Museum. “I am so pleased and excited to once again be part of the staff at Riverside. This is a truly unique place and being part of an amazing group of people that are so devoted to its success is an opportunity I am very grateful for,” said Teresa.

Victoria Trice (lower right) is the new seasonal worker at Riverside. She is a native of Shively and a 2009 graduate of Fisk University, where she majored in history. She's currently working on her master's degree in teaching at Bellarmine University, which she plans to use teaching high school history. In addition to her position at Riverside, she is a substitute teacher with JCPS. Victoria enjoys watching movies, reading dystopian fiction, gardening and spending time with her two mini schnauzers, Rebel and Milo. Victoria describes Riverside as a job that “doesn't feel like work. I have thoroughly enjoyed the amazing views and learning from all my coworkers and the volunteers about the history of Riverside, nature and gardening. I'd like to thank all my coworkers and the Riverside volunteers for making me feel like I've always been a part of the Riverside family.”

RIVERSIDE

THE FARNSELEY~MOREMEN LANDING

7410 Moorman Road
Louisville, Kentucky 40272

DID YOU KNOW THERE WERE AT LEAST THREE KITCHENS ASSOCIATED WITH THE FARNSELEY-MOREMEN HOUSE?

The original detached kitchen (which stood from the late 1830s-1870s) was discovered through archaeology and reconstructed as part of the museum in 1999. Archaeologists think they have discovered a second detached kitchen just south of the historic house (probably used from the 1870s until about 1900). A third attached kitchen was added to the house in the early 1900s (south end of the house with an entrance into the dining room). The attached kitchen was removed during the restoration of the Farnsley-Moremen House in the early 1990s.
